Dear Dave:

I am writing this to let you know that it is easy for people to overlook helpful things. There is so much scam going around that people like you who are trying to be helpful before money which hasn't been claimed can find the people it would go to.

I am grateful that you chase down people who can claim money which will eventually go back to the government.

I thank you for doing a job which will help a lot of people and you can hopefully make a good living doing this work.
